

Happy Birthday Big Brum!

25 years is a huge achievement. Many children have had unique experiences through their involvement with your theatre in education programmes and Arts Council England is delighted to have supported your development over the years. Big Brum is a great example of an organisation that demonstrates that participation in the arts really does have the power to transform lives and communities. Enjoy your celebrations!

Sally Luton
Regional Executive Director
Arts Council England, West Midlands